Fueling Your Business All Summer Long

A PERSONAL NOTE- JAMIE'S JOURNEY

We are finally leaving St. Barnabas Hospital after I received the most incredible gift from God, a new, living kidney.

The past 10 days have been incredibly difficult: two separate surgeries, unexpected bleeding, pneumonia, and six blood transfusions. I am tired, bruised, and exhausted, but I am also deeply grateful and filled with hope.

This kidney is more than an organ, it is a second chance. A chance to live without constant sickness. A life free from dialysis.

To the amazing transplant team and everyone at the hospital, thank you! Words fall short in expressing my gratitude for your care and dedication.

To my friends and family, your support has meant everything to me.

Recovery will take time, months, but I can finally see the light at the end of the tunnel.

To all those still fighting kidney failure, you are in my prayers. Stay strong.

With love and hope,

Jamie Finkelstein
