A MIRACLE IN MOTION: AN UPDATE FROM JAMIE FINKELSTEIN

Dear Friends and Supporters,

I'm overwhelmed with emotion as I share this news with you, I got the call.

After a full year of waiting, hoping, and praying, my transplant team has found me a matching kidney. Surgery is scheduled for mid-June, and with it comes a new chapter, one filled with renewed strength and endless gratitude.

Words can't fully capture what this moment means. But I can say this:

Thank you, to God, to my incredible doctors, and to every single person who has been part of this journey. Whether you offered prayers, kind words, or simply stood by quietly in support, you've helped carry me through.

This transplant is more than a procedure. It's a miracle, and it marks the beginning of a beautiful new season in my life.

Thank you for believing with me.

With all my heart,

Jamie Finkelstein
